Run Logan Run

For A Brief Moment We Could Smell The Flowers

Worm Discs CD/DL/LP

Bristol's Run Logan Run are the duo of saxophonist Andrew Neil Hayes and drummer Matt Brown. Hayes adds synths on their third studio album. With its hard driving breakbeat-descended drums, wailing sax and oceans of synth, fans of The Comet Is Coming will find much to enjoy here. Hayes and Brown feed off each other very well, the saxophonist's horn pushed through cavernous reverb and the drummer's kit sounding like it's coming from the bottom of a mineshaft.
